Never in the history of the country have the building and manufacturing industries been so agitated and stirred up by the great question of labor and the reward. Never have jobs and contractors looked for so much dough and uncertainty on account of the question of wages and strikes. Scientists are leaving no stone unturned to find minerals and germs of disease and turning to the great and important question of what is the germ of the disease. It may be found largely in the stercor of immigrant ships.

Unkilled and uneducated brown and black people are in the country in a much larger quantity than in any other country. While politicians and philosophers have placed some restrictions on immigration, the question is have we gone far enough? Would it not be better to call a halt entirely for a term of years until the dumb roll away and things settle down to a normal condition.

In reply to the letter of "Inquirer," in the People's Column of this issue, we would say that we consider Rev. V. of the by-laws of the town, which says that "At each annual meeting for the transaction of business, a committee on appropriations, to consist of fifteen members, shall be appointed to consider all articles involving the appropriation of expenditure of money, and report their recommendation at the meeting called." One of the best sections in the old code. We think "Inquirer" is in complete error, but claim nothing special. Barring the writer of this, the committee of 1900 was a good one; it met often, considered every article in the warrant carefully, and with partiality to none and justice to all, cut some $7,000 or $8,000 from the same asked for, and gave the town a tax rate about $1.30 on the $100 less than it otherwise would have been. Now we ask, "Did the committee meet in regard to the old meeting, and if so, why did they not report?" We would here state that with the adjournment of the annual meeting it is considered that the committee of 1900 ceased to exist, and as far as we know their successors have not been appointed. You further ask, "What is the legal status of that meeting, under the by-law?" We simply say we are not the town or anyone else's legal adviser, and decline to express a legal opinion. If the act was not legal it may not be too late to have it legalized by the present legislature. It is pretty hard work to get such matters through this late in the season, but with an early and right push it might be done under a suspension of the rules.

"When I was at Bedford" will soon become as familiar a saying as the old "When I was at Philadelphia," and those who miss it will miss the opportunity of a lifetime to see all the people and all the products of the American continent.

Vandalism unpunished means invariably more vandalism. On the historic grounds of Cambridge is a canon valuable for its historic associations. A senseless vandal was detected in the act of hurrying it with dynamite; he was reprimanded and sent to jail. As long as officers thus ignore such acts buildings will be defaced, gardens and shrubbery destroyed and vandals continue their work.

With the coming Sunday Memorial season is in honor of fallen heroes of the revolutionary and other wars will be observed. This is a season which originated with the Grand Army and for the week they should have the right of way and a perversion of the hour to other purposes shows a lack of appreciation of the sacrifices which have been made.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The subject before the young men in the school, that is the present custom in regard to the election of a president, is a matter of considerable importance. The business to be considered will include the election of a president, that officer having been left vacant by the resignation of Mr. Shaw, and the consideration of the character of the school committee.

As a result of circulating subscription papers among the scholars, quite a nest egg has been obtained for the support of the base ball team.

At a meeting of the senior class last Friday, a door director and six were chosen for the graduation class.

We very gladly report the visit of two parties to our school last Friday, making a total of eight parties visiting our school since September. We probably do not offer the same entertainment to our friends that we did ten years ago, but we have grown to feel the neglect so much the more keenly. We wonder, as we hear criticism of the character of our high school, the working done there, and the teachers employed, if the criticism is not from a similar source to some recent criticism of the building, i. e., from those who have never visited the school but have depended upon those who have for their information.

SCIENCE REVEALS CURED AFTER FOUR YEARS OF SUFFERING.

"I have been afflicted with rheumatism for four years," says John Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly aching. I tried everything I could hear of, and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not returned. Why not try this balm and get well? It is for sale by all druggists."

TWO NIGHTS' FAIR.

Ladies of Trinity Church Hold Their Annual in Lincoln Hall.

"The Lady of Lyons" the attraction of the Opening Evening and a Floral Drive and Comedy Constituted the Entertainment of Second Night.

The annual entertainment and sale of the ladies of Trinity Church, which was held in Lincoln hall, Weymouth, on Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week. The weather was most propitious and each evening saw a large audience of ladies and gentlemen.

The hall was artistically decorated with flowers and brightly-colored lanterns and tastefully arranged with tables and booths containing useful and fancy articles in great variety.

The first table was located in the rear of the hall near the entrance, and was presided over by Mrs. J. Henry Smith, Mrs. H. H. Burke, Mrs. E. F. Parke and Mrs. A. H. Hanson. Next in order on the left came the flower and lemonade table, which was in charge of Miss Nellie Chase, Miss Ida Hoffman, Miss Mary Hunt and Miss Adeline Keating. Closely, in the rear of the flower table, was the cake table, in charge of Mrs. Jackson. A pop corn table was next in line, and was presided over by Miss Della Hoffman and Miss Clara Hunt. Those of the audience who possessed a weakness for candies and sweetmeats found delight in ingesting the same from the tables of Mrs. W. C. T. U. and Mrs. W. C. T. U.

The entertainment of the opening evening consisted of a grand presentation of Bulwer Lytton's beautiful romantic play "The Lady of Lyons" under the direction of Miss Agnes Hyde who appeared in the principal roles. The play was a great success, and the audience was highly entertained.

The second night of the fair was equally successful, and the audience was highly entertained by the comedy and floral drive.

The ladies of Trinity Church are to be congratulated for the success of their annual entertainment and sale.

ONION GROWING.

Points to Commercial Culture From a Successful Practitioner.

Commercial onion culture is a topic receiving much attention just now. An onion grower of many years' experience presents a review of his methods in this paper. Some of his leading points are here given:

"Do you know that our best onions are 'dried up' just as onions or cabbages, in fact, and other animals are, and can be deteriorated just as easily? A writer has truly said: 'An onion tends to rot from the inside out.'"

In the ratio of gain the best onion is a full grain onion, the best in all the set of onion.

Alfalfa without other food, whether pastured by pigs or cut and fed to them, is not a complete food. When additional food was given, the rates of gain were increased. In fact, the rate of gain was increased by the addition of alfalfa to the ration.

Alfalfa is a good supplementary food in connection with grain and other food. It is a complete food, and it is a complete food, and it is a complete food.

Alfalfa is a good supplementary food in connection with grain and other food. It is a complete food, and it is a complete food, and it is a complete food.

AGRICULTURE.

HOW IT WILL BE REPRESENTED AT THE PAN-AMERICAN.

The most elaborate display of all interests connected with the Pan-American Exposition will be the display of the Pan-American Agricultural Society.

Since prehistoric times agriculture has been the most important industry in all American countries. In the United States about one-half of the population is now engaged in some occupation connected with the cultivation of the soil. With proper consideration of these vast and growing interests, the managers of the Pan-American Exposition have dedicated more than half of the Exposition space to the products of the farm and the many articles manufactured therefrom.

The Agricultural building is one of the grandest and most important of the grounds, and its contents, in a fair to itself, sixteen separate buildings are devoted to live stock besides a model station that is practically and scientifically in advance of anything so far attempted.

The building will be a complete and comprehensive display of the products of the farm and the many articles manufactured therefrom.

PORTO RICO'S RESOURCES.

They Will Be Exhibited at the Pan-American Exposition.

The enterprise of Porto Rico is advanced by the preparations that are now being made for its participation in the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, N. Y.

The residents of this new possession of the United States are wide awake to the fact that their interests will be well served by a display of the island's resources at the exposition of 1901.

The building will be a complete and comprehensive display of the products of the farm and the many articles manufactured therefrom.

THE ROYAL BOX.

King Edward inherits the fine trait of his mother, which was marked by her faithful care and affection for those who had spent their lives in her service.

The jewels which the Duchess of Cornwall took with her to the Cape have been insured against all risks for $75,000. The duke has insured his jewels for $200,000.

An arrangement is reported in Holland by which Wilhelmus, the queen and Duke Henry an obedient subject two hours every day. The rest of the time the queen is a loyal and obedient wife.

The children of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York have been brought to the Cape to visit the king and queen. They will stay with the king and queen till the duke and duchess return from their colonial tour.

POLICE EXPENSES.

In 1900 the expenses of the New York police department were $11,162,500. This year they are $11,162,500.

The London police department costs $8,100,000, the Paris department $6,100,000, the Berlin department $4,100,000, the Philadelphia department $2,100,000, the Boston department $1,100,000, and the St. Louis department $1,100,000.

The expenses of the police department in all four of these American cities having a total population of 4,100,000 is $20,000,000 a year.

New York, with total population of 2,200,000, expended in police salaries alone more than $4,000,000 annually.

HEARD AND READ

The person who gives up hope gives up the ship.

If a man is unable to find a reason for doing a mean act he invents an excuse.

A mariner must have his eyes on the rocks and reefs as well as on the north star.

Philadelphia Record—"I want to get some doors," said the builder, as he entered the planing mill. "Is the proprietor in?" "Yes," replied the smart office boy, "let him come down."

New York Press—"The woman who will do a light job with a rifle around the neck of a bow-legged, cross-eyed, hunched-up dog, ought to be sent to a sanitarium."

Los Angeles Times—"The man who has the same effect on the prosperity of the country as any other kind of gambling, no more, no less."

The Atchafalaya tells of a woman who is no tender hearted, but who could not let a chicken, but who wanted it for the dinner, and who, one day, she picked it alive, and her husband, killed it after he came home.

Washington Star—"I understand that chimney sweep is regarded as being 20 years ahead of his time." "No," answered the awe-stricken citizen, "I am the chimney sweep and I know better than that. He is about six months behind time."

Altogether—Did you notice that Mr. Skyniff just put a nickel in the contribution box?"

Glady—You, the Lord have a cheerful giver, you, Skyniff, is a friend to lose of a whole dollar."

The pastor of the Methodist Church of Haverhill, Mass., spoke of the Haverhill Cooking School as "a school of high living," and for this speech he was asked to resign his pastorate.

After all my experiences I can truly say that it is to be the world over every man a living. Every man owes the world the price of his daily existence. That is the truth. And if a man believes himself and does what is right, that price will be paid.

Willie—Teacher—"Now, Tommy, suppose you had ten apples, and you gave another boy five of them, and you would tell him to take the bigger one, wouldn't you?" Tommy—"No, sir, I wouldn't be any wiser."

A Memphis man, a member of the Episcopal church, tells of a young woman who was buying her Christmas gifts, and had succeeded in getting a suitable present for everybody on her list except two aged relatives, one a maiden lady and the other a widow. She told the patient clerk her trials and showed her miserably empty pockets, and finally took her to the book counter, showed her the books, and said:

"Would something religious suit?"

"Oh, no," she hastily replied, "they are Episcopalians."—Memphis Scimitar.
